Although many men have written to this paper regarding the prospects of Western Canada, and its great possibilities, it may not be uninteresting to give the experience of a woman settler, written to Mr. M. V. Me-Innes, the agent of the Government at Detroit, Mich. If the reader wishes to get further information regarding Western Canada it may be obtained by writing any of the agents of the Government whose name is attached to the advertisement appearing elsewhere in this paper. The following is the letter referred

Hilldown, Alberta, Peb'y. 5, 4903.

I have been here now nearly five years, and thought I would write you a woman's impression of Western Canada-in Alberta. There are several ranchers in this district who, in addition to taking care of their cattle, carry on farming as well. Their herds of cattle number from 100 to 200 or 300 heads, and live out all winter without any shelter than the poplar bluffs and they come in in the spring in good order. Most of the ranchers feed their cattle part of the time, about this time of the year, but I have seen the finest fat cattle I ever saw that never got a peck of grain-only fattened on the grass. You see I have learned to talk farm since I came here-farming is the great business here. I know several in this district who never worked a day on the farm, till they came here, and have done well and are getting

I think this will be the garden of day not very far distant. There has obtain hot water and dry steam for been a great change since we came here, and there will be a greater change in the next five years. The winters are all anyone could wish for We have very little snow, and the elimate is fine and healthy. Last summer was wet, but not to an extent to damage crops, which were a large average yield, and the hay was immense-and farmers wore a broad smile accordingly.

We have good schools, the Government pays 70 per cent. of the expense of education, which is a great boon in a new country. Of course, churches of different denominations follow the settlements. Summer picnics and winter concerts are all well attended, and as much, or more, enjoyed as in the East. Who would not prefer the pure air of this climate with its broad acres of fine farms. its rippling streams, its beautiful lakes, its millions of wild flowers, its carried either way. Use window groves of wild fruit of exquisite flavor, its streams and lakes teeming with fish and its prairies and bluffs with game, to the crowded and stiff state of society in the East I would like to go home for a visit sometime, but not to go there to live, even if presented with the best farm in Michigan. Beautiful Alberta, I will never leave it. And my verdict is only a repetition of all who have settled in this country. This year, 1 believe, will add many thousands to our population. And if the young men, and old men also, knew how easy they could make a home free of all incumbrance in this country, thousands more would have settled here. I would sooner have 160 acres here than any farm where I came the East are coming to a knowledge | tering a solitary moo of complaint. of this country, and as they do, they Alberta, and I suppose in other parts as well, which is unusual, so we expect a great rush when the weather gets warmer.

We have no coal famine here; coal can be bought in the towns for $2 50 cents to a dollar a ton.

Very truly yours. (Signed) Mrs. John McLachlan.

DAIRY HOUSE PLAN.

Substantial Structure Which Can Be Erected Anywhere at a Modernte Cost.

This building can be built one story, of brick, with a cement floor, and have at the outset a fireproof building. A ceiling placed across from the eave-plates will aid materially in maintaining a lower temperature during the hot weather; 18 by 25 feet will fernish room enough, although more or less will perhaps better suit the builder. It will accommodate separator, butter worker, cream vats, churn and Pasteurizer, aerator and egoler, also two small rooms, one for boiler and engine, the other for wash- the Mammoth cave of Kentucky. Yet ing, testing milk, and such work that would be better done away from the Northwest some day, and that steam power, because we can thus cream and butter. I should prefer sterilizing without extra equipment or cost. Put in a cement floor over the entire surface, providing for a gutter, and some good outside drainage. Using glazed tile for a wainscot will add to the beauty and finish, and somewhat to the cost. If places where no ray of sunshine ever brick is used at eight dollars per 1,000, the cost laid will be from $13 to $15 per 1,000. I am reliably informed that a wall of cement, sand and stone of equal strength and sustaining power, with an air chamber, and these two walls held firmly by iron ties, can be built cheaper than a brick wall. The cut shows a ground plan. The location of the equipment may be changed. No opening is provided between butter room and the boiler room. The passage is through the wash room, which will obviate dust from coal. The main shaft will be suspended and belting may be space enough to provide plenty of light.-Rural New Yorker.

THE QUEEN OF COWS.

Her Name is Sadie and as a Milking Machine She Has No Equal Anywhere.

Utica, N. Y., has recently won distinction through a Holstein-Friesian cow, Sadie by name, which-or perhaps such a cow as Sadie ought to be referred to as "who"-is a resident of that place. Sadie has broken the world's 30-day record for milk-giving and butter producing. This is no easy thing for a cow to do, but reports are to the effect that Sadie accomplished the trick without showing from in Michigan; but the people in any signs of nervous collapse or ut-

In the 30 days during which Sadie will come West in thousands. All was put to the test she produced a winter, people have been arriving in fraction over 2,754 pounds of milk, from which was extracted 123 pounds 81/2 ounces of butter. In other words, the milk that Sadie gave during the 30 days' contest would have been sufficient to drown her if it had been tanked and she thrown in, while her to $3, according to distance from the month's supply of butter, if packed mines, and many haul their own ccal in the ordinary bricks, would nave from the mines—getting it there for served to make around her a wall so high that she could hardly have jumped over it.

Sadie is certainly a wonderful cow. If she hasn't proved that a part may be two or three times as great as the whole she has at least shown that in spite of the wonderful advances men have made in their methads of handling and utilizing steam and electricity the cow remains in some way the most extraordinary machine that was ever invented.— Chicago Record-Herald.

TIMELY DAIRY NOTES.

Ensilage behind the dairy herd works wonders in cheapening the production of milk. Don't be a filthy man with filthy hands, nor milk a filthy cow in a filthy stable into a filthy pail. It is claimed that tincture of iodine applied with a feather will remove warts from a cow's udder. Many cows are made cross and unruly by the men who have the care of them. Take almost any nervous, highstrung cow and place her under the care of ill-tempered, impatient men, and the result is not difficult to foresee. The exposure of dairy cows to cold rains results in serious loss to the dairyman; this loss may be decreased by abundant feed; the dry cold of our winter days calls for additional feed for our cows, and exposure to the heavier summer rains should be well guarded against.—Midland Farmer. Too Much of a Good Thing.

Farmers generally are careful not to work their teams too hard, but to give them rest so they will be fresh and lively next morning. But some farmers do not treat themselves as well as they do their mules, says as well as they do their miles, says Farm and Ranch. They work hard all day and finish by the dim light of a lantern; and they are so tired they must go to bed, and to sleep. The result is they are worn out and old before their time, and have according to the state of the state old before their time, and have accomplished but little.

Salt Prevents Pear Blight. According to an old nurseryman there is no better preventive of blight in pear and quince trees than salt when applied around the roots. It should be mixed with wood ashes and the ground covered for a space of two or three feet around the stem of the tree, except immediately up to the trunk. This is especially valuable in dwarf pears, which are generally grafted on a quines root.—Midland Farmer.

A Good Thing.

"This philtre," said the voocoo doe tor to his beautiful patron, "is guaranteed to make you happy for life. If ou drink the contents of this magic phial while rubbing your left ear with garlie and stove polish in the light of the moon in the third hour of the ascension of Venus, you will shortly inspire the love of a man who has immense wealth and who will ask you to marry him. He will take you to live in a mansion, and will provide you with magnificent dresses and jewels. You will have everything that heart can wish, and will be very happy."

The lady from Chicago smiled rap-

Fight for a Tree's Life. The oldest tree in the great botanical garden, the Jardin des Plantes, at Paris, is an acacia, planted 230 years ago. This tree is covered with "wrinkles of old age," and supported on "crutches." It has, with difficulty, withstood recent tempests. Its wounds have been covered with plasters, and its failing trunk and branches bound and stiffened with rods and braces. A determined effort is being made to save its life, and much gratification is expressed because it has, his season, once more put forth leaves. But the managers of the garden have posted a bulletin announcing that another tempest will be likely to end the old tree's career.—La Nature.

Strange Life in Caves. One would hardly look for new forms of animal life in a vast, dark cavern like as a matter of fact, no less than seven such forms inhabiting that particular cave, and hitherto unknown to science, have recently been described. The fact that these creatures are very minute does not detract from their scientific interest, while, on the other hand, it must increase our admiration for the skill and industry of the naturalists who do not allow even microscopic life to essape their ken, although hidden in penetrates.-Youth's Companion.

Grasshoppers are fast disappearing from Umatilla county, Cal. STANDING ON HIS RIGHTS.

HOW A BEAUTIFUL WOMAN ESCAPED Knew One Point of Law and He User It for His Own Protection.

The next witness was a hard-fisted, resolute yoeman with a bristling chin beard, says the Chicago Tribune.

"Mr. Gigson, said the attorney for the defense, "are you acquainted with the reputation of this man for truth and verneity in the neighborhood in which he lives?"

"I reckon I am," replied the witness.
"I will ask you to state what it is."

"Well, sir, his reputation fur truth ain't no good. His rep tation fur vrassity—well, that's diffrunt. Some says he does, and some says he don't."

"Witness," interposed the judge, "do you know the meaning of 'veracity."

"I reckon I do."

"What do you understand by the word?"

The witness twicled his hat in his fingers is woments without replying.

Then he looked up defiantly.

"I refuse to answer that question, judge," he said, "on the ground that it might discriminate me."

"But, as you know, I did find the genuine remedy after all and I had not been taking Dodd's Kidney Pills very long before I knew that they were an honest remedy that would do all and more than was claimed for them. They cured me, made a well man of me and I am now as sound as I ever was.
